Event Music Licensing

You Play, You Need To Pay!

Music Events and Venues Take Heed

The music performed at public events, concerts, festivals, fairs, corporate functions, and even private clubs and parties is subject to copyright protection. You should know that the term “public” is broadly defined under the law as “at a place open to the public or at any place where a substantial number of persons outside of a normal circle of a family and its social acquaintances is gathered.”

As a venue operator, concert promoter or festival organizer, you are required to have a license to perform music from all the songwriters and publishing companies involved with the songs played at your events or venue.

That means that you need blanket licenses from multiple performance rights organizations like BMI, ASCAP and SESAC to prevent you from violating copyright laws. There are a lot of misconceptions when it comes to music licensing.

Client Testimonial

Erin Cameron was a pure joy to work with! She talked me through each step of planning our event. WCAZ event was a wonderful success thanks to Erin's help. We will definitely be back next year!

POM Person

TSE Entertainment's onsite producer that provides you
Peace of Mind.

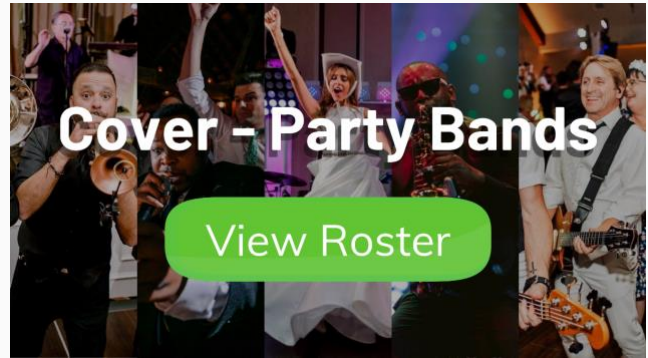

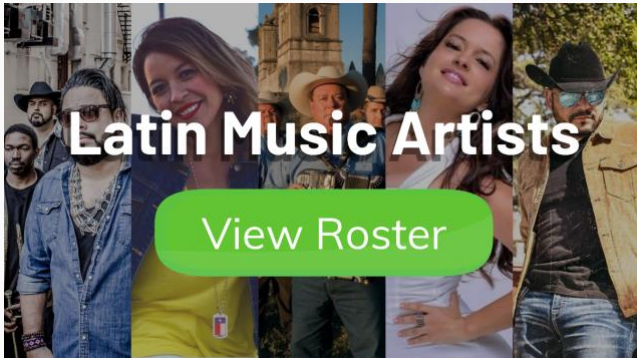

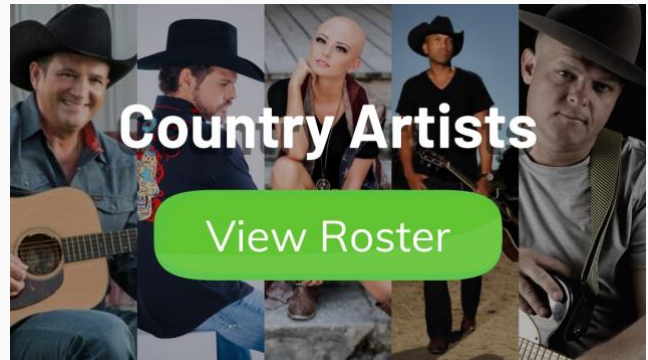

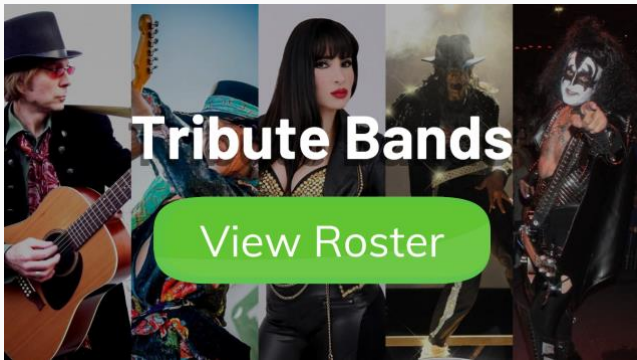

Delivering Peace of Mind for Your Events

The next best thing to having TSE handle all of your local production needs is having TSE's PoM person on site to handle all of the local production and artists issues involved with your event. What's a PoM Person you ask?

It's an experienced producer who becomes your liaison with all of the contractors, artist representatives, and people involved with putting on the show, down to the stagehands. You get someone who knows every detail of what needs to be done and when during your event.

Having a TSE Producer on site delivers Peace of Mind to those putting on the event. That's why we call them PoM People.
